HERE ARE LAWS,
INFORMATION TO GUIDE ELECTORSOfficial Gives Detailed Instructions Concerning Election

Instructions on the correct method of registering and voting in the general state and national election on November 6, have been outlined by an official who has spent much time recently looking up confusing points of the election laws, in order that he may be able to answer correctly the hundreds of queries which pour into his office regarding election technicalities.

"You will be presented with two ballots on this November election," he said. "One ballot is a proposition ballot known as the State-Wide System of Fishing and Hunting Ground Ballot. This proposition will become a law providing it receives the affirmative votes of a majority of the voters who cast votes for members of the general assembly at this election. This proposition or act of the general assembly of the state of Illinois provides for the acquisition and establishment by the state of Illinois, acting through its department of conservation, subject to the governor's approval, of a state-wide system of fishing and hunting grounds; provides that these grounds shall also be open to the public for boating, camping, hiking, motoring, picnicking and other similar park purposes; provides for the control, maintenance and regulation thereof; gives the department of conservation full power to execute the act; authorizes the state to contract a debt for such purpose and to issue $20,000,000 of serial bonds, bearing interest at not to exceed 4 percent; appropriates this sum to the department; levies a tax sufficient to pay the interest as it shall accrue and to pay off the bonds within 30 years from issuance, but provides that such payments may be made from other sources of revenue and requires funds in the game and fish fund to be first used for such payments and requires the direct tax to be omitted in any year in which sufficient money from other sources of revenue has been appropriated to meet such payment for such year. It also makes the provisions for payment of bonds and interest irrevocable and pledges the faith of the state to the making of such payments.

Change in Custom
The other ballot is the candidate ballot, which contains the name of all the candidates of all parties. The names of the electors of president and vice-president will not be printed on the official ballot as has always been done heretofore, in accordance with an act of the legislature, which went into effect July 1, 1927. The names of the candidates for president and vice-president of all the various parties will be printed on the ballot with a bracket to the left of each of the parties' nominees. A square will be printed to the left of said bracket. Then follow the state, district and county candidates. The candidates of the various parties for judge of the supreme court of the Fourth judicial district, to fill vacancy, will also appear on the candidate ballot.

"The county clerk (except in counties where they have election commissioners) under our present laws has complete charge of this election, such as furnishing of the registers, supplies, ballots, etc.

"At the special session of our legislature held in February, 1928, a law was passed, clarifying the situation as to whether or not women can serve as judges and clerks of election, and it is now legally permissible for women to serve as election officials.

Urges Election Service
This special session also passed a law providing that judges and clerks of election who serve at this November election shall be credited with two days' services, or in other words, $12, for election day.

"If the opportunity presents itself that you can serve either as judge or clerk of election, do not fail to avail yourself of this occasion, as it is educational and you receive compensation at the same time.

"Under our present election laws two registration days are provided for. The first registration day is three weeks prior to the election, and in this case, on Oct. 15. The second registration is always one week prior to the election and in this case, on Oct. 30."

The official then went into the system of registration and urged that every one see that his or her name appears on the books. While this is not compulsory in order to vote, he pointed out that it is preferable to being sworn at the polls on election day, because of the confusion that necessarily arises in such cases not to mention the cost of time.

To vote one must be at least 21 years of age, a resident of the state for a period of one year, of the county for 60 days, of the election district 30 days preceding election.

SMITH KEEPING
SPEECH PROGRAM
GUARDED SECRETWill Not Talk About
Plans for Future
Campaigning

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER

(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Governor Smith is proceeding with the mapping out of his future campaign plans along lines which he believes are most effective in the light of experience gained from his first two weeks invasion of the west.

While keeping silent on the number of speeches he expects to deliver on his second swing, beginning next week and where they will take him, the Democratic presidential nominee is expected to chart his course around the eastern half of the country, probably taking a dip into the "solid south" before touching several border states, and then complete the circle with speeches in more northern states.

How long this trip will take and what subjects the nominee will discuss are not known definitely, but it is certain that he will reserve the final week of the campaign for a whirlwind finish in the Atlantic seaboard states. His speeches there will be in more rapid order and probably will be confined to the strip between Boston and Baltimore, as well as those cities, with New York getting the final address on the Saturday night before election.

Definite announcement of the schedule for the next stumping tour will be made by the Governor himself in a few days.

Zeppelin to Start
for America Sunday

Berlin, Oct. 4.—(AP)—The new German dirigible Graf Zeppelin having made her final test flight flawlessly, is ready to leave for the United States on Sunday. It was announced that only unfavorable weather would delay the airship's departure.

The Graf Zeppelin on the test flight of 34 1-2 hours covered about 1,800 miles at an average speed of more than 52 miles an hour.

As a rehearsal for the trans-Atlantic flight the airship was navigated throughout the night exclusively by instruments in the pilot's cabin which was isolated from the chart room behind it.

RASKOB THINKS
STOCK MARKET
NEEDS "FIXING"Denies Any Activity in Stock Market
Recently

New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—John J. Raskob, Democratic National Chairman and prominent stock market operator, in denying any activity in the present "bull market," declared today that security prices have so far outrun their demonstrative values that a "material readjustment is necessary" before they will again be attractive for investment.

"In the first place, since I have taken this position as Democratic National Chairman, I have not been near my office and have not purchased and stock whatsoever.

"In the second place, it is my opinion that security prices have so far outrun demonstrated values, earning power and dividend returns that a material readjustment is necessary before they will again be attractive to the prudent investor. The course of the bond market is a good indication of where the investor stands in relation to present security prices. Dividend returns are low and money rates are high."

Say Woman Attacked
Smith Last Spring

Roanoke, Va., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Democratic county headquarters here made public last night an affidavit in which it was charged that Mrs. Willie W. Caldwell, Republican National Committeewoman for Virginia, in a speech last April, made a direct attack against Governor Alfred E. Smith, Democratic nominee, because of his membership in the Roman Catholic church. Mrs. Caldwell was quoted as saying: "Don't let Al Smith, slum-born, rum-raised, a wet Irish Catholic get to the White House."

The affidavit was made by George V. Kelly, Tazewell county cattle raiser, and said Mrs. Caldwell's speech was delivered at Tazewell, Va., April 21, 1928. Another affidavit made by W. B. Leslie, publisher of the Clinch Valley News, said that he had read Kelly's affidavit and that he believed "the same to be substantially correct."

Upshaw is Forbidden
Free Speech in South

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 4.—(AP)—William D. Upshaw, now on a speaking tour in Mississippi in opposition to the candidacy of Governor Smith, has been denied the right to speak in Goodman, Batesville and Starkville. Residents of the town of Batesville yesterday passed a resolution asking the former Congressman to "speak elsewhere." W. R. Ellis, political leader of Haines County, told the Memphis Commercial-Appeal that the Georgian would not be heard in Goodman, while Sheriff Bridges declared that use of the courthouse at Starkville would not be available to Upshaw.

"The anti-Smith organization is paying expenses, and I am not receiving Republican money," Upshaw declared in a telephone conversation to the Commercial-Appeal.

"I thought this was a free country devoted to the ideals of free speech, and I did not know Mississippi towns had adopted Russian governmental tactics."

Yankee Stadium, New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Crippled but still playing championship baseball, the New York Yankees made their hits count today and beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 4 to 1, in the opening game of the world's series before a record shattering crowd unofficially estimated at 75,000.

The band played The Star Spangled Banner while the crowd arose. The groundskeeper gave the playing field a final manicuring while Sherdel and Hoyt were warming up.

The umpires came up on the field and held a final conference before the plate. The following world's series play by play is:

BY CARL S. BRANDENBURY

A mighty cheer arose as the Yankees trotted on the field. While they were tossing the ball around the moving picture men snapped Judge Landis, as he stood poised to throw out the first ball. Meanwhile the umpires discussed ground rules with Capt. Frisch of the Cardinals and Coach O'Leary of the Yankees. Ruth got a good hand as he hobbled out to right field. He limped perceptibly as he trotted along. There was some delay until the photographers could get off the field.

Hoyt warmed up leisurely in the box. Douthit up.

First Inning. Umpire Owens insisted that every photographer be off the field before he permitted Hoyt to pitch the first ball. Douthit polished his bat with some dirt and stepped to the plate. Douthit went out, Lazzeri to Gehrig. High up: The Yankee outfield came close. A high fly to Paschal. Frisch ran. The crowd applauded the New York boy. Koenig threw out Frisch at first. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Yankees—Paschal flied out to Hafey. Koenig up. Sherdel was working the corners of the plate both inside and outside. Hafey took Koenig's fly. Ruth up. The Cardinal outfielders backed up. Ruth got a double into right for the Yankees first hit. Koenig scored on Gehrig's double to the right field bleacher fence. Meusel sent up a high one to Frisch. One run, two hits, no errors, one left.

Second Inning. Cardinals—The boys in the right field bleachers cheered Ruth to the echo. Bottomley was given a base on balls, the fourth pitch being low and on the inside. Hafey fanned, taking a third called strike. Harper flied out to Paschal. Hoyt tossed out Wilson at first. No runs, no hits, no errors, one left.

Yankees—Hafey gathered in Lazzeri's long fly near the left field barrier. Frisch tossed out Dugan. Frisch took Bengough's hopper and tossed him out. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Yankees—Maranville made a wonderful one hand catch of Hoyt's pop foul near the left field boxes. Douthit snared Paschal's high fly. Frisch tossed out Koenig. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Fourth Inning. Cardinals—The crowd cheered Maranville as he walked to the bench. High fanned, swinging for the third strike. Frisch popped out to Bengough who raced to the screen to make the catch. Bottomley grounded out to Gehrig. Mistimed. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Yankees—Ruth got a double into center field, hooking one of Sherdel's slow balls. Sherdel tossed out Gehrig at first. Ruth holding second. Ruth and Meusel scored, on Meusel's home run into the right field bleachers. The crowd went into an uproar. Lazzeri popped to Wilson back of the plate. Dugan up. Maranville went back to take Dugan's hoist. Two runs, two hits, no errors, none left.

Fifth Inning. Cardinals—The boys in the left field stands whooped it up for Meusel while Ruth also came in for a big hand for his second double of the game. Hafey struck out for the second time, swinging for the third strike. Harper singled into left.

INDECENT PLAY
STOPPED AGAIN
BY AUTHORITIESCourt Injunction Was Dismissed: Actors
Give Up Fight

New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Indications today were that "Pleasure Man," Mae West's raucous play, had finished its run on Broadway after two and two-thirds performances.

Its cast arrested for the second time in three days, the doors of the Biltmore Theater locked against it, its author arrested and Mayor James J. Walker and other city officials insisting that the play be barred for all time, counsel for Miss West and the actors admitted defeat. "It would be foolhardy to continue," said Nathan Burkan, Miss West's lawyer.

A temporary injunction to prevent police from interfering with the production, issued Tuesday by Supreme Court Justice Valentine, was dismissed yesterday by Presiding Justice Victor Dowling of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court and the matinee was stopped during the second act by police.

Mayor Walker in ordering that further drastic action be taken against the play if efforts were made to present it again, said:

"We will not have disgusting or revolting degenerate shows for exhibition in this city."

NORTHWEST NOW
CLAIMED BY BOTH
OF MAJOR PARTIESNorth Dakota to Furnish Horse Race in Corn-
ing Election

BY BYRON PRICE

(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Bismarck, N. D., Oct. 4.—(AP)—The final month of the presidential campaign finds the accumulated grievances of agriculture still dragging very heavily on the wheels of the Hoover candidacy in the normally Republican northwest.

Just as the Democrats have awakened to the seriousness of the anti-Smith movement in the south, so the Republicans here in the northwestern states no longer speak of the anti-Hoover farm movements as a myth. They realize that through Wisconsin, Minnesota and the Dakotas they must turn in and fight, and they are doing it.

North Dakota is one of the states which both parties are claiming just now with great earnestness. But on both sides these claims are coupled with a reminder that much work remains to be done before election day, and there are leaders among Republicans and Democrats alike who say quite candidly, when they speak privately, that if the election were held today it might very well turn out a horse race.

Thus has tradition become disturbed in a state which four years ago stood for Coolidge in the face of the LaFollette crusade and gave Davis but 13,000 votes out of a total of nearly 200,000.

Many Spellbinders.

Governor Smith recently has traversed the state, and his western flings at the Republican farm politics were broadcast over the northwest. On his trail have come a swarm of Republican spellbinders, including Senators Brookhart and Borah, preaching Hoover.

The outstanding state leaders of organizations, are, in turn, rebutting their pleas that Hoover be defeated.

Although North Dakota was not the hardest hit by the period of distress in the farm states, her farmers and business men never-the-less have passed through some trying times.

Since November 1, 1920, there have been 307 permanent failures among North Dakota state banks. Land values have decreased, and the present wheat prices do not help the Republican campaign.

Most of the other issues have been crowded into the shadow. Prohibition is talked about, but with no great show of confidence on either side. The state is rated normally dry a large percentage of its country population is German and wet.

The religious issue has had little public prominence.

CLAIMS ENDING
DIVERSION OF
MUCH ALCOHOLPhiladelphia Attorney
Sees Termination of Supply

Philadelphia, October 4.—(AP)—Declaring that more than 1,000,000 gallons of alcohol had been illegally diverted here yearly, District Attorney Monaghan said today that the grand jury investigation of rum runners had exposed the methods of diversion and that it would be a long time before the huge system back of bootlegging could be reestablished. "We have developed information," said the prosecutor, "showing that in one year 'cover' houses pretending to manufacture preparations containing alcohol, or dealing with pretended manufacturers, diverted illegally more than 1,000,000 gallons of alcohol."

"The methods of such diversion are being exposed. The participation of police officials and others in systems of protection is being exposed."

"The reflection of the present situation is seen in closed saloons and speakeasies, closed particularly because the source of supply has actually been broken up."

Thompson Attacks
G. O. P. Newspapers

Chicago, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Floyd Thompson, Democratic nominee for Governor, told an audience at Downer Grove, a suburb, today that Republican "pay-roll" newspapers are turning out as facts canned stories and editorials manufactured in the headquarters of Louis L. Emmerson, his Republican opponent for Governor.

Mr. Thompson said he believed he had "nailed" all the false stories circulated about him. He charged that employees of charitable institutions have been called upon for assessments in the campaign of Louis L. Emmerson and he promised civil service reform and that would permit employees of the state to "stick to their jobs instead of being used as campaign workers."

Leech Fines Rock
Island Man $400

Rock Island, Oct. 4.—William Wakeland of Rock Island, who pleaded not guilty to liquor possession charges and took a change of venue from Judge George D. Long in county court some time ago, changed his mind and entered a plea of guilty when the case was called for trial before a jury, with Judge William L. Leech of Dixon presiding, in county court.

Judge Leech fined Wakeland $400, before testimony had been heard by the jury. Wakeland was arrested when county officers raided at 121 Eleventh avenue, Rock Island. Officers stated that they confiscated a jug of liquor.

'ALSO RANS' WILL NOT GET PLACES
ON STATE BALLOTSupreme Court Refuses to Advance Question for Early Hearing

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 4.—(AP)—"Also rans" in the primary legislative race had their plans for getting their names on the ballot upset today when the Supreme Court denied a motion to advance the cause so that a decision could be rendered at this term of court.

This action will probably mean that the cases of which there are several based on the same questions of law, will be carried over until the December term of court, and past the November election.

The denial was to a motion presented by Harry I. Weisbrod, who ran third in a Cook County Senatorial district. Appellants in these cases contend that since three legislators are to be elected in each senatorial district, each party should nominate three. They attack the validity of the primary law provision which allows the Senatorial committee to fix the number of party nominees in their respective district. Justice Stone, in denying the motion, said that since the constitutionality of a law is involved it would be impossible to give the early decision requested.

Fergus Plea Allowed.

John B. Fergus, veteran fighter for equal legislative reapportionment for Cook County, was allowed to bring his latest attack on the legislature to this term when a motion to allow him to file briefs was allowed. Fergus had been dilatory and failed to get his appeal from an adverse Sangamon County Circuit Court decision perfected before the court opened.

Fergus seeks a restraining injunction preventing the State Treasurer from paying salaries to legislators, arguing that since the legislature has failed to reapportion the state it is an unconstitutional body, unable to pass a valid law for the payment of salaries of its members.

Uphold Quo Warranto

An attack upon the quo warranto exemption act passed by the last legislature, by which the Governor and other constitutionally elected officers are barred from ouster proceedings under the quo warranto law, was dismissed by the court today, arguing that since the legislature has failed to reapportion the state it is an unconstitutional body, unable to pass a valid law for the payment of salaries of its members.

The court denied a writ of certiorari in the case of John F. Davis and others against Louis Wirth, and others, involving judgments on a number of promissory notes given for subdivision lots near Granite City. Decision of the Appellate court confirming judgment on the notes, which totalled more than $150,000, now stands.

Joint motion of the city of Belleville and A. H. and C. R. Ogle to dismiss the case in which the Ogles opposed confirmation of an assessment roll for a sanitary district was allowed. Motion to dismiss an appeal brought by the C. B. & Q. Railroad against the city of Kewanee and the Illinois Commerce Commission, was allowed on a joint motion, on the grounds that the dispute in the case has been settled.

Barbour's Address
Will be Broadcast

State Senator James J. Barbour of Chicago will be the principal speaker at a Republican mass meeting at the Masonic Temple, Rock Island, Ill., Tuesday evening, Oct. 9. His address will be broadcasted from WOC station, Davenport, Ia., from 8:00 to 10:00 p. m.

Senator Barbour, who was one of the special prosecutors in the citizens' clean up of vice in Rock Island in 1922, when John Loney, Anthony W. Ellburg, Dan Drost, George Buckley and George Holsapple, gang leaders, were sent to the penitentiary, will discuss Floyd E. Thompson's official record as State's Attorney of Rock Island county from 1912 to 1919.

Wesleyan Missionary Society Meeting

Thirty-seven members of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist church gathered on Tuesday evening at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Garrison east of the city.

At 6:30 the fire was kindled and all were happily engaged in roasting wienies and in enjoying coffee and doughnuts.

Then the members assembled in the living room for the evening meeting, which was called to order by the president, Miss Ino Sheldahl, and the devotions were led by J. C. Kohler.

The business of the society was then disposed of and plans were made for the chicken supper to be held in the church basement on Saturday evening. The two studies of the evening were very capably handled, the home topic by Mrs. A. N. Richardson, and the foreign topic by Mrs. Edna Natress.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Mellott had charge of the social program. The main feature was a humorous presidential campaign which afforded much merriment. Then all participated in charades until time for the guests to depart. The society enjoyed a most delightful evening, and all look forward to the next meeting to be held Nov. 13th, a picnic supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cortright.

Tunney and Bride Honeymoon Begins

Rome, Oct. 4—(AP)—Having eluded the curious after their wedding, Mr. and Mrs. James Joseph Tunney today were presumed to be somewhere near Florence, scene of Dante's love for Beatrice.

After the ceremonies in the seclusion of the Hotel Russie, Tunney brushed aside reporters and photographers as he and the former, Polly Lauder made their way to an automobile in which they sped away in the twilight.

The bride wore a two piece red broadcloth suit trimmed with black, flat fur and a wide red hat. She carried her bridal flowers. Tunney wore the blue sack suit in which he was married. It was thought that as well as visiting Florence they would tour other romantic and historical places including Fiesole, where Pope Leo XIII was bishop for 30 years before being called to the Vatican, and Assisi, home of the humble St. Francis.

Their departure was delayed by a long drawn out luncheon which followed the religious and civil ceremonies, coffee and liquors being served late in the afternoon with the famous Roman sunshine pouring through the windows.

The Jolly Twelve Met Tuesday Evening

Mrs. D. D. Brenner delightfully entertained the members of the Jolly Twelve Club Tuesday evening at Five Hundred. Mrs. William Lee was awarded the favor for high score and Mrs. Dave Gardner was awarded the consolation favor. Dainty refreshments were served and a pleasant hour was spent socially.

Drive Started For "Illinois Cottage"

Danville, Ill.—(AP)—A drive to raise $30,000, with which to build an "Illinois cottage" at the National Widows and Orphans Home, Eaton Rapids, Michigan, has been inaugurated by L. A. Tuggle, Danville, department commander of Illinois Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Commander Tuggle has appointed a committee to work with a similar committee from the state Ladies Auxiliary to attempt to raise the money. These two committees formed into one and elected the following officers: Chairman, G. G. Ginnaven, Springfield; vice-chairman, Mrs. B. Ensign Gill, Chicago; treasurer, John List, Waukegan; secretary, Kittie Mulhall, Chicago. Members of the committee are Enoch H. Renner of Urbana; Arthur Krooth of Chicago; James M. Kearns of Chicago and Mrs. Dorothy Ginnaven of Springfield.

Last year the veterans raised about $5,000 to start the cottage fund, and now the committee is attempting to increase this sum to $25,000, in order to construct and maintain a home for twenty-five orphans. Each post and auxiliary in the state is soliciting contributions.

A military ball will be held in Chicago early in October and at the close of the drive on December 15, there will be a grand ball in Chicago when all posts and auxiliaries will report. It is expected that ground for the cottage will be broken on Armistice Day.

On the 472 acre tract at Eaton Rapids, three cottages have been built, and Illinois and Pennsylvania expects to build this fall or next spring. Foundations for three others have been laid.

We-Hav-Fun Club Held Meeting

Don't Squeeze Blackheads

Squeezing out blackheads makes large, ugly pores. The safe and sure way to get rid of these blemishes is to dissolve them. Get two ounces of Caloria powder from your drug store, sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth, rub over the blackheads, and every one big or little, will disappear at once.

"Guest Night" at Christian Church

A treat is in store for all those attending the "Guest Night" meeting to be held at the Christian church Friday evening, October 5th.

Every member of the church is urged to attend. The Society especially invites the men of the membership as the program will be rendered by several of their sex.

Bridge Made Easy

(Abbreviations: A—ace; K—king; Q—queen; J—jack; X—any card lower than 10.)

EXPERT VERSUS NOVICE—5

In the playing of your hand the distribution of the cards is a most important factor and you must always be on guard to ascertain it. An illustration thereof follows:

Dummy—hearts, K 9 6 5 3 2.

East—none.

Declarer—A 10 4.

West—Q J 8 7; leads 7.

Applying the rule of eleven, declarer immediately notes that east is blank of hearts. He must immediately determine what card to play from dummy. Playing small from dummy, he covers with the heart Ace in his own hand. On the next round declarer plays the heart 10 and by ducking permits west to win the trick. When the declarer is again on the lead he plays the heart 4 and finesse the 9 if necessary. By bringing into play three "working tools" the rule of eleven, duck and finesse—he wins five tricks in hearts.

Th Play's the Thing!

The number of illustrations of various plays could be multiplied until they became voluminous. By applying at every turn the "working tools" that have been analyzed in these chapters you will be guided by sound principles rather than rote. Playing frequently will enable you to appreciate their inherent value at the psychological moment.

Coolidges Celebrate Anniversary Today

Washington, Oct. 4—(AP)—President and Mrs. Coolidge celebrated today their twenty-third wedding anniversary—their last one in the White House.

They had both carefully avoided special preparations for the occasion, telling friends that they wished to observe this day in the same manner as they had observed all previous ones, ever since the first. They wished it to be a quiet family occasion free from all show or artificiality.

Mrs. Coolidge left the bedside of her sick mother in Northampton, Mass., Tuesday to continue her practice of twenty three years standing of being in her own home every fourth of October. The absence of their son John was the only change which Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge were forced to submit to in their yearly observance of the date.

They both awaited with eagerness, however, a message from John from New Haven, Conn., where he is now working. They also expected to receive this afternoon greetings from their more intimate friends. Otherwise it was understood that they preferred to enjoy the occasion undisturbed.

POINTERS FOR PARENTS

FACT AND FANCY.
By Mrs. Agnes Lyne.

When the child of four tells an untruth it is hardly ever a lie in the ugly meaning of the word.

But because truth telling has always been regarded as one of the essential virtues, about which there can be no compromise, the parent who catches his child in what sounds like a lie is generally so shocked that he is quick to scold or punish.

Yet truth telling is no easy art. It must be fostered with tact and intelligence until the young child to distinguish between his fancies, his wishes and the facts.

Little Ruth was fortunate in having a mother who was wise in this matter. One February day when the snow lay on the ground, the child came in with a fantastic story of the lovely flowers she had seen blooming in the gardens down the street. She described in detail their bright, beautiful and their sweet smell.

Ruth's mother listened to the story in a friendly manner and then diverted the child's interest to something else. She understood that Ruth's wish to see again the flowers that had been so lovely in the summer lay back of her wild tale.

Later on, from time to time, she talked to Ruth about the coming of flowers in the spring, how they grew in warmth and sunshine, how it would not be so very long before they would come again in all the gardens down the street. Thus, gradually, although she never referred to the story Ruth had told, quite properly accepting it as a wish made, Ruth in the child's own mind, she helped her sort out fact and fancy and clarified the little girl's ideas.

When little children tell untruths, parents must try to find out what the story meant to the child. Some stories, like great works of art, should be considered on their merits as feats of the imagination. Others should lead the parent to check up on the facts in a kindly and tactful spirit.

Treating the falsehoods of the little child with sympathetic insight is the way to help him learn to tell the truth.

Phidians Open New Year With Luncheon

The Phidian Art Club opened the new year with a luncheon at the Colonial Inn, where Mrs. E. D. Alexander, Miss Carrie Rosenthal, Miss Geisenheimer, and Mrs. Harry Warner, as hostesses, made welcome nearly all the Phidian members.

Lighted candles and fall flowers made the luncheon tables most festive, and many renewals of friendship were made after the long summer vacation.

The crowning event of this most delightful party was a talk given by Mrs. Alice Beede, telling of her Personal Experiences on her trip to and from Chile, South America, where she lived with her daughter and family for one and one half years.

Mrs. Beede's description of the Andes Mountains and other scenery was charming, and the manners and customs of the various tribes of people very interesting. Added to this, she placed on display, the rugs, embroideries, pictures, silver, and curios, which she had collected, completing a most delightful lecture, enjoyed by all present.

Seems to Be All In the Family?

Budapest, Oct. 4—(AP)—The newspaper Pesti Naplo said today that Prince Nicholas of Rumania had eloped with a Rumanian girl of aristocratic lineage and was living in the Paris villa of his brother Carol, the former Crown Prince of Rumania. No confirmation of the report was obtainable from other sources.

The paper said the rumor at Bucharest did not permit the matter to be discussed publicly while the Rumanian court maintained that Prince Nicholas was on a holiday in Europe.

Prince Nicholas is 15 years old and visited the United States in 1926 with his mother, Queen Marie, and Princess Ileana. He is a member of the regency which rules for the six-year-old King Michael, who is his nephew and Carol's son.

Chiropractors are Against Machines

Chicago, Oct. 4—(AP)—Making a plea to members of his profession to never resort to use of drugs and surgery, Dr. J. W. Dugger, president of the Illinois Chiropractic society at their annual convention here today urged chiropractors to "check" those using electrical appliances in their practice.

"The legal rights of a chiropractor practicing under the medical practice act of Illinois gives them the right to practice that method which is specifically specified in their application for examination, he declared.

"I am sorry to say that there are many chiropractors of today who are advising drugs and some who are even doing surgery. I have been advised by those who are doing this kind of work, that I should get some electrical appliances and start singling tonsils as there is a large fee in it.

I contend we have no right to do this kind of work and furthermore it is the duty of the chiropractor to try to avert the removal of any tissue or organ in the human body. Every organ has a duty to perform and upon this fact is based some of the fundamentals of chiropractic. Perfect coordination will give perfect health and chiropractic will come nearer giving perfect health than any other method of treatment. I am afraid we are placing too much credit on the ultra-violet, infra-red and other appliances. We should start checking.

"Chiropractic is a separate and distinct science from any and all other methods of treating the sick. This must form the basis of our reasons for asking the general assembly to grant us a law under which we may obtain a board of chiropractic examiners.

"I firmly believe that every trade and profession should control its own destiny. I also believe that if the chiropractors present a bill to the legislators on this basis they will receive more favorable consideration than has ever been given to them in the past. The old plan of discrimination by the medical men will get you nowhere for the simple reason that it can not be absolutely proven that the medical profession discriminate against any drugless methods.

This is the age of the specialist and for that reason you should specialize in chiropractic. The sick come to you because you have something to give them that is different to what they can get elsewhere and not because you have all kinds of electrical appliances. Such treatment can be had at their family physician so why should they come to you.

PRACTICALLY ON DIET WHEN SHE GOT THE GLY-CAS

Bloating Distress and Misery After Each Meal; Restless Nights; Gly-Cas Amazing.

"No matter how skeptical a sufferer may be at the start about Gly-Cas, I believe your medicine will not fail to convince them of its merits." Mrs. Charles Barron, 819 Hemlock Ave., Dixon, recently said in a conversation with the Gly-Cas Man who was at the Campbell White Cross Pharmacy.

"For a long number of years I had suffered from stomach and bowel troubles," said Mrs. Barron, "and I was always using some kind of medicine to get relief—always searching for something that would give me actual benefits and now, at last, I have found a real medicine in Gly-Cas."

"Before I began taking Gly-Cas," she continued, "I was practically on a diet. So many foods disagreed with me. For several hours after each meal, bloating and belching, headaches and burning sensations in my stomach distressed me. My bowels got out of order, forcing me to resort to laxatives."

"After being urged to give Gly-Cas a trial in my case, I began taking the medicine and it is really remarkable how quickly and efficiently Gly-Cas does its work on the system. I am now honestly able to eat about anything I want, yet without the former distress and I really feel better now than I have in the past four or five years."

"Speaking as one who has used Gly-Cas and from experience is acquainted with its merit, I can tell anyone that in my opinion Gly-Cas is the best medicine to be had anywhere."

Scores of people continue to call daily at the Campbell White Cross Pharmacy for Gly-Cas. Many say this medicine seems to act like magic in their cases. Hundreds of people right here in this city and vicinity have been given complete relief from stomach, liver, bowel blood, nerve troubles, neuritis, rheumatism, after all kinds of other medicines and treatments had flatly failed the.

Attempt to Collect Debt Proved Fatal

Litchfield, Ill., Oct. 4—(AP)—An attempt to collect a $2 debt led to the death yesterday of Miles Sawyer, 38, and the arrest of James Whitteco of Gillespie on charge of murder.

Sawyer, a woodchopper, stopped at Whitteco's home to collect $2 owed him for wood. Whitteco accused Sawyer of being drunk, and when Sawyer refused to leave, Whitteco shot him. He died in a Litchfield hospital. Jesse Allen, Sawyer's companion, was a witness to the shooting.

TAMMANY AND FARM RELIEF.

In his public speeches and statements, Governor Alfred E. Smith, the Democratic candidate for President, has expressed great concern for agriculture, declaring that he would foster plans for the relief of the farmer.

It is only natural that Governor Smith's promises with regard to agriculture be judged by the past. The record during the Governor's administration shows pretty clearly his attitude, and if this is any indication of that which is portended in the future the agriculture interests may well look askance at his declarations.

In 1920 Governor Smith sent a special message to the Legislature urging the enactment of legislation providing for the appointment of a commission to be empowered to fix the price of milk produced on the farms of the state. This commission, it was proposed, was to be appointed by the Governor and was to have power to determine just what the farmer should receive for the milk produced in his dairy.

On January 26, 1920, Governor Smith submitted reports of an investigation conducted by the Fair Price Milk Committee of the City of New York and of a commission appointed by him to the Legislature. In this message, which is a part of the public papers on file in the Governor's office, he said:

"Both of these reports speak of the necessity on the part of the state of declaring the production, distribution, and price of milk to be a public utility, subject to state control."

"It is the unanimous opinion of all those who have made any study of the subject that the solution lies in state regulation, to the end that an adequate supply be always available at a price within the reach of all."

"I urge your honorable bodies to read these reports, and I strongly urge you to enact legislation to carry these recommendations into effect."

Governor Smith's plan for a commission to be appointed by him to fix the price of the farmer's milk was defeated in the Republican Senate, and after the defeat of the measure the Governor gave out a statement, also included in the record, as follows:

"It is a matter of great regret that the majority of the Senate has seen fit to defeat the bill to provide a commission to regulate production, transportation and distribution of milk."

It is a matter of history that the Governor's proposed milk Commission, given power to sit in a meeting in New York City and decide what the producers were to receive for a quart of milk, aroused the strongest opposition in agricultural circles. For some time, however, the Governor persisted in his plan, but he was unable to move the Republican Legislature, with the result that it was never carried into effect.

Agriculture well knows what this would have meant in a practical way. The whole basis of the plan was that there should be an adequate supply of milk in New York, and it was apparent that the plan proposed to take it from the farmer and deliver it in New York at a price to be determined around a large mahogany table in some office building in New York City. New York farmers believe that this would have been a staggering blow to the agricultural industry especially in the dairy sections. The record is all in the Governor's office, showing the message which he submitted and showing his criticism of the failure of the Legislature to follow his recommendation.

Agriculture leaders in New York State long contended that the Department of Agriculture should be removed from political control. Under Governor Smith's predecessor in 1918 a bill was enacted providing for a council to head this department and appoint the Commissioner, so as to protect it against adverse political influences and against changes which might result by a change in administration. This plan was proposed, submitted, and made a part of the state law through the influence and efforts of the agricultural organizations.

But when Governor Smith came into office in 1919, one of his first acts was to send a message to the Legislature asking that this council of eleven non-partisan members, with the power to appoint a Commissioner, be abolished and that this power be given to him. His object in this, of course, is plain. The appointment of the Commissioner by the Governor would mean that the positions in the department would be available for political purposes.

In an address before the New York State Agricultural Society in the Assembly Chamber, January 17, 1923, Governor Smith said:

"Instead of a Council of Farms and Markets there should be a single commissioner of agriculture and that commissioner ought to be selected by the Governor."

"Instead of a Council of Farms and Markets there should be a Commissioner of Agriculture. You may give him an advisory council, if you wish; you may fix his salary; you may fix his term of office; give him a lump sum appropriation and let him reorganize that department; and he ought to be appointed by the Governor."

For three years Governor Smith annually sent this message to the Legislature requesting legislation which would give him power to appoint the Commissioner of Agriculture.

The bird house, slow but sure took form. One bird said, "That will keep us warm. It's going to be a big one, and there's room enough for all. My, what a dandy place to hide. I've never seen a place so wide, and from the floor up to the roof, it's surely nice and tall."

"Of course it is! It's bound to be," said Scouty Tynmite. "You see we never do a job half way. It's best to do it right. With everybody taking part we've made good progress from the start. If we keep on this way I assure we'll finish it by night."

Then Clowny broke right in. Said he, "You're optimistic as can be. You think we never get tired out. I've no more strength to lose. The rest of you can work away, but I am finished for today. And then he flopped down on the ground to take a little snooze."

The other Tynmites laughed at him. "He never seems to keep in trim."

said Copy, "his ambition's gone. A case like that is sad." Then Scouty raised his head and sighed. "Oh, no it's not," he soon replied. "The trouble with poor Clowny is that he's a lazy lad."

So, on the ground poor Clowny slept. The birds and other Tynmites kept at work upon the bird house. Limbs were fastened, one by one until the roof and sides were tight, and everything looked quite all right. Then Scouty gazed upon the house, and said, "Our work is done."

"Hurray! Hurray!" the birds all cried. Then one exclaimed, "Let's peek inside, and see just what results are for the time that he have spent." Then Copy was the next to speak. Said he, "It's foolish just to peek. Let's walk right in and look around." So, in the whole bunch went.

(The birds start making something for the Tynmites in the next story.)

Varicose Veins

By G. deTakats, M. D., Chicago, Ill.
(This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. Headquarters of the Gorgas Memorial are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.)

When man stood up on his hind legs a great stress was thrown on the lower extremity. The blood must flow against gravity from the toes to the heart, a distance of four to five feet.

As soon as the flow of blood stops in some of the veins, or flows backward in the wrong direction, the veins become useless for the patient, or even harmful. The wall of veins is much less elastic or muscular than that of the arteries; it dilates under the back pressure, becomes tortuous, and the progressing disease of varicose veins is before us.

Small venous dilatations, particularly on the calves and around the ankles, may be seen in the early twenties. Anything that will hinder adequate emptying of such veins will contribute to the progress of this seemingly insignificant symptom. Constipation, pregnancy, fill the abdominal vessels; prolonged standing, constricting garters, lack of muscular exercise hinder the emptying of the small enlargements. The legs become tired in the evening and an urge to elevate the feet to a horizontal position becomes more and more frequent. Later severe continuous pain or cramps occur which are relieved during the horizontal position at night.

The veins may enlarge to considerable size, rupture through the skin, and give rise to severe bleeding, or they may become infected and stand out as hard, swollen cords. The tissues around such veins are flooded with waste products that should have been carried away with the normal flow of veins. They become poorly nourished; the skin is scaly, itches and breaks at the slightest injury. A small scratch that would ordinarily heal quickly becomes infected and enlarges. This is the varicose ulcer, which takes many months to heal, even with expert care. Amputation may be the result if the poisons in such a leg endanger the life.

Early discovery and adequate treatment of varicose veins alleviates later complications. All constriction must be carefully avoided, bowel movements regulated and exercises instituted. Injections made into the dilated veins switch the circulation into the deeper veins from which the blood is squeezed toward the heart by muscle action. In very advanced cases it is advisable to remove the veins and rely on the deep circulation for venous return.

Elastic bandage and rubber stocking are used by many. They give temporary relief but do not remedy the condition. In hot weather they may irritate and hasten the breaking down of the skin. The earlier the treatment, the simpler the remedy and the more rapid the relief. If neglected, the disease progresses, an din later life becomes a real problem, incapacitating the patient and throwing an immense burden on both his family and on the community. A conservative estimate would indicate that twenty per cent of the population above twenty suffer from varicose veins of various degrees.

MRS. McCORMICK HERD IS GIVEN OVER TO SCIENCE

Efforts to Provide Goitre-Cure Milk are Successful

Chicago, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick's Holstein herd, one of the finest in the midwest, has been turned over to science, seeking a preventive and cure for common goitre.

Since July 1 the herd of Mrs. McCormick, Republican nominee for Congressman-at-Large, have been the subject of experiments conducted under the direction of Prof. George W. Cavanaugh, head of the Department of Chemistry at Cornell University.

By feeding powdered seaweed to the cows the scientists have produced milk with an iodine content sufficient to serve as a preventive and possible as a cure for goitre, Prof. Cavanaugh announced.

Prior to the tests the milk from the McCormick herd was free of iodine. After the experiment had progressed several weeks the milk was found to contain 306 parts of iodine in a million.

The seaweed was mixed with regular feed. Samples of the iodized milk were found to retain their flavor and food quality. The iodine content was said to be more than sufficient, doctors declaring that a minimum of from 150 to 200 parts of iodine in a billion is necessary to make milk effective as a goitre preventive.

Obituary Curtis E. Mireley
Curtis E. Mireley was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. August Mireley and was born on the homestead place just one mile west of town May 25, 1875. He remained at home assisting with the general farm work until the spring of 1896 when he became united in marriage to Miss Edith Daw of Lee Center township. He then took up farming operations for himself in that township. To this union were born four children, Lester, Gladys, Theresa and Glen.

After ten years of wedded life the husband and wife decided that it would be better for both if they dissolved the marriage and thereupon Mrs. Mireley left for Earlville while Earl went to Rockford to live. Here he successfully represented the Council Bluffs remedy company for Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

In 1911 he was united in marriage to Jennie Derr, also of Rockford. Soon after he decided to start a remedy manufacturing concern of his own known as the Mireley Remedy Co. of Rockford. He was very successful in his new undertaking and had been obliged to increase the output of his factory many times.

Some few years ago he was seized with an attack of heart trouble and was obliged to go on a strict diet for a year. Having again regained health he set out to further expand his company but was seized with an attack of heart trouble. His condition grew worse until he was relieved of his suffering Friday morning about 11:30 by the call of the Reaper.

Funeral services were held from the late home at 820 E. State St., Rockford and at the local M. E. church at 2:00 P. M. Sunday. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. P. M. Shannon of Rockford, accompanied by the choir. The pall bearers were chosen from his playmates as a boy, and were E. E. Vincent, A. L. Derr, F. H. Delhotal, John Erbes, John Dinges and William Halbmaier.

Interment was made at the Union cemetery and his death brings to a close the Mireley family of five who grew up with, and was an important part of this community. His parents passed away some few years ago, while his sister, Mrs. F. J. Biggart and a brother, Guy, passed away rather recently.

Those from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Biggart, Mrs. Susie Remers, Mrs. Mosser, Mr. and Mrs. William Bushey, E. E. Tennant and James Biggart all of Dixon; Mrs. Florence Mireley, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Burley of Compton, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Risley and Mr. and Mrs. John T. ## Former Minnesota Solon for Smith

New York, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Former Congressman J. Adam Bede of Minnesota, for forty years a member of the Republican party, and a Republican member of Congress in the Roosevelt administration, announced today in a statement issued through Democratic national headquarters that he will support Gov. Smith because of the Governor's stand on farm relief and prohibition.

"The St. Paul meeting which Gov. Smith addressed," the statement said "was the greatest political demonstration ever held west of the Mississippi. It was like a holiday. People danced in the streets to the music of the 'Sidewalks of New York.' I think the Governor is sure of Wisconsin and that he will carry Minnesota, North Dakota and Nebraska, if the gains he made while in the west can be held."

BRONZED SKIN DISEASE

When your cat's hair stands on end through fright, it is because his adrenals are throwing out quantities of their secretion. It is claimed that even humans have had their hair stand up when frightened. We are learning more each day about the function of ductless glands. If we ever learn to accurately control these glands we may look for a race of super men. The suprarenal glands or adrenals are two small capsules, one attached to the upper part of each kidney.

It has long been known that a disease of these organs produces extensive changes within the body. The most pronounced symptom of a disease is a bronzing of the skin similar to stains from walnut juice. Sometimes this stain is very faint, and can only be detected on the mucous membranes of the mouth, but it may become so extensive as to cause the skin to resemble that of a mulatto.

This disease of the suprarenal capsules has been termed "Addison's Disease" in honor of the man who first described it. The term "Addison's Disease" usually means tuberculosis of the suprarenal capsules, although Addison included any disease of the suprarenal capsules, such as cancer. The pigmentation of the skin is not always present, but it may precede or follow symptoms of indigestion.

In addition to the digestive disturbances, the patient notices a muscular weakness, chronic tiredness and languor, severe pain and tenderness in the abdominal and lower back regions. The muscles are usually not reduced in size in the earlier stages, but advanced cases may be attended by severe emaciation. The disease is accompanied by symptoms showing an irregular or deficient blood supply, such as sleeplessness, sleep-walking, headache, dizziness, ringing in the ears, neuralgic pains, muscular twitches and, in advanced cases epileptic-like convulsions, delirium and coma. These last three symptoms usually precede death, and the patients greatly resemble those of patients suffering from uremia.

The disease is most frequent between the ages of twenty to forty as in the case of tuberculosis, but there are several cases on record that have been present at birth, or that occurred in extreme old age.

The disease is most commonly found among males of the laboring classes.

Advanced cases show very low blood pressures, lack of appetites, nausea and vomiting, alternating constipation and diarrhea. Any mental or bodily exertion is followed by extreme exhaustion.

In the treatment of this disease it is considered positively dangerous to use purgatives. I believe the best results can be obtained by using the short fruit fast and dieting regime that I advise in cases of tuberculosis. The patients must avoid wasting their nervous energy. Short periods of five to eight days of fruit fasting, followed by a diet rich in proteins and non-starchy vegetables, prove the most satisfactory dietary measure.

This treatment is also beneficial in certain cases where there is a deficiency of adrenal secretion. In some of these cases where the hair has fallen out in patches it will grow in again if the adrenal glands are quickly restored to their normal functioning through the fasting and diet treatment.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

QUESTION: W. J. L. writes: "Your articles are well worth reading, and we derive knowledge and common sense from them. Will you please tell me if an enlarged kidney which has caused three or four hemorrhages should be removed? A noted specialist in Nice says an operation is the only thing. My friend, who is the one in question, is over sixty and in good condition otherwise."

ANSWER: It would be unwise for me to advise you about your friend's case, as all of the facts must be known before I could give you a sensible opinion. A diagnosis by mail is always very unsatisfactory and in your friend's case I could only make the wildest kind of a guess.

QUESTION: Mrs. H. asks: "Will you kindly print again the recipe for wholewheat muffins?"

ANSWER: To a well beaten egg add one cup of sweet milk. Then stir in one cupful of genuine wholewheat flour until smooth. Next add a half cupful of the wholewheat flour into which has been thoroughly mixed one level teaspoonful of baking powder. Bake in muffin tins in a moderately hot oven until brown. The quantity makes six medium or eight small muffins.

QUESTION: Mrs. E. W. writes: "I have a plate and something eats little holes in it. Do you think any serious illness could be caused from this? What is the cause of it? And the cure?"

ANSWER: You probably have the same over-acidity of the mouth that you had before you lost your teeth and this is the cause of the holes appearing in your plate. However, the plate must be faultily made and the materials in its composition not properly mixed. To get rid of the acid mouth you must diet so as to overcome excess stomach acidity. Pay special attention to your food combinations.

Curtis to Set Sail Through West Sunday

Chicago, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Almost exhausted by the strenuous western campaign just completed, Senator Charles Curtis, the Republican vice presidential nominee, is seeking complete rest here this week preparatory to undertaking a new tour of the northwest next week.

Tonight the Senator is on the program to address the meeting in Auditorium Hall arranged by the Swedish American Hoover-Curtis Club but because of his weakened voice he expects to make his remarks very brief.

On Sunday, the veteran campaigner will set out for Devils Lake, North Dakota, where he speaks on Monday. His route goes over the tail-end of the path of Governor Smith in the west and completes the circle by Curtis of Smith's travels. Tuesday the Republican vice presidential nominee will speak at Duluth, Minn., Wednesday at St. Paul and Thursday at Janesville, Wisconsin.

DOUBLE HEADER TO OPEN LOCAL PLAY SATURDAY

Dixon Teams to Tackle Mendota, Strongest Conference Teams

The Dixon High School Athletic Association has outlined a new plan which will be given a trial during the 1928 football season. Instead of selling tickets for each of the home games, it has been decided to test out a plan of selling season tickets which provides admission to the four games to be played on the home grounds, all being double headers. These tickets are now on sale and may be obtained from any of the high school students. They will be honored for the first time Saturday afternoon when the home season is opened with a double header with the Mendota high school teams.

A survey of the practice field on the north side last evening revealed a number of changes being tried out in the line over the lineup of last Saturday at Amboy. It was easily to be seen that the team had suffered the loss of some of its strongest material. Not only is Delbert Blackburn out of the game probably for the remainder of the season, but Smith, full back, has been unable to attend practice this week and has been confined to his home on account of illness. Wolford will be ready to start in Blackburn's place Saturday and Daniels will in all probability take up Smith's place, placing two new men in the back field to start against one of the strongest contenders for the Rock River Valley conference championship, thus far. Feltes is another of the dependable members of the first squad who will be out of the game Saturday, having torn the ligaments in his right ankle during practice Tuesday evening.

Mendota has a team of veterans and is credited with having the fastest back field in the conference. There are very few men on the first squad and the Dixon team will be up against an even harder battle this coming Saturday on their own home lot than last Saturday at Amboy.

While the first team is suffering from loss of valuable players and injuries as well as of last Saturday's stinging defeat, the second or pony team is in excellent shape and are anxiously awaiting the sound of the whistle which will start them off on their first game of the season next Saturday afternoon. Coach McMassters has been putting his lightweight squad through some hard practice

CROWDS START TO YANKEE STADIUM EARLY THIS MORN

Fair Warm Weather was Predicted for First Game of Series

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN (Associated Press Sports Writer)
New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—For once in its baseball life, New York became a "home team" town today as the embattled Yankees plucked crevices in their Harlem river citadel against an expected onslaught by the St. Louis Cardinals. Father Knickerbocker was in the first stage of his fifteenth modern world series, but it might well have been mistaken for his first, with 75,000 fans marching upon the Ruppert Stadium eager to yell the home forces on to victory.

Indications of Indian Summer sunshine fired the baseball spirit as it had not been fired for years past in this vicinity. The ominous shadow of Wee Willie Sherdel, he of the left-handed magic, remained across the path of the Yankees, but New York fans were willing to string along with Waite Hoyt — and the sort of fight with which the Hugmen pulled themselves along to the American League pennant by their very bootstraps.

Cripples in Action
The Cardinals still were favored to take the series, but word had spread over the city of the gay capers Yankee cripples cut at the Stadium yesterday when the sunshine finally appeared and really gave them a chance. Earl Combs was definitely out of the fight, with Benny Paschal and Cedric Durst scheduled to alternate in his place, but the other Yankee Cripples were up and about and the Babe was almost playful.

Fans in bulk showed a disinclination to keep an all night vigil for unreserved seats. The New York bleacher patron has learned that an early start to the Stadium on the day of a game will place him among the 20,000 fortunate who see a world series game for $1.

The 20,000 more choice $3 seats in unreserved sections of the grand stand are sold out much more quickly than the bleachers, and it was around the $3 entrances that the greater number of early comers congregated today before time for the gates to open.

Texas First in Line
Jack Taylor, 74-year-old Texan, had the honor of being the first in line for the bleacher tickets.

Neither of the rival managers had any deviation to announce from plans made yesterday, although both McKechnie and Huggins attempted to be evasive regarding pitching selections. Hoyt and Sherdel were unanimously chosen by the grand stand managers, and this fixed the batting order of the contenders.

The Yankees have two positions—third base and center field—where the performers will be governed by the rival pitching. Against the southpaw Sherdel Paschal will play center and Dugan third.

Durst will relieve Paschal and Robertson take Dugan's place when right handers are in the St. Louis box. For the Cardinals, Happer will have the right field patrol against normal pitching and Holm will get in against Zachary.

Huggins reaffirmed his intention to lead off with Paschal or Durst and follow through with the rest of the batting order just as it was at the close of the season, rather than make a shift to promote Koenig to the lead-off post. McKechnie's battle array will be as it has been all season.

News From Grid Camps of Large Schools of West
Chicago, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Knut Rockne's football strategy, which calls for numerous substitutions and the inevitable "shock troops" if needed, is spreading about the Big Ten.
Coach Robert Zuppke used the plan with various alternations last year as his Illinois team won the conference championship, and now Wisconsin has adopted it.
So severe is Wisconsin's schedule this year, Coach Glen Thielstede announced, that he does not plan to place all of Wisconsin's hopes on a single "first" team. Instead, three full "first" teams will be ready for action and substitutions will be many. Notre Dame may feel the force of this change of policy Saturday as it clashes with the Badgers at Madison in the most important game in the conference.

In adopting the plan, Coach Thielstede cited the case of Illinois last year, where 33 men won letters. Not only did it save the men physically, but it gave better results, and more experience to those who will report for duty next year.

A defense against Notre Dame's shift and aerial attack is being molded by the Badgers, who are practicing over-time for the game. Several of the varsity athletes are nursing injuries, among them Shoemaker at center and Osman and Lusby, backs.

The line continues to receive major consideration in most Big Ten camps as the teams prepare for Saturday's contests. Coach Zuppke armed the freshmen squad with plays of Bradley Polytechnic, Saturday's opponent for Illinois, and they scored two touchdowns after taking the ball on the 20 yard line yesterday.

Minnesota lost two more prospects yesterday when Al Arsenault and Earl Callendar, backs, were ruled ineligible. Both are sophomores. Coach Clarence W. Spears has decided to use Bronko Nagurski at fullback in the Creighton game Saturday.

GOAT OR HERO? IS QUESTION IN PLAYERS' MINDS

Each World's Series Has Furnished One or More of Them

BY ALAN J. GOULD (Associated Press Sports Editor)
New York, Oct. 4.—(AP)—No world's series is complete without its hero—or its goat. The wreath of wild raspberries is bestowed, a glance over baseball's main chapters reveals, as impartially as the crown of laurel. Seldom has a world's series offered as much opportunity for heroic stuff, as much chance for the lowly substitute, aging veteran or ambitious youngster to jump into the spotlight as does the current tussle between the Yankees and Cardinals. Will one of the stars of other years repeat or will some obscure performer leap into the glare with a great catch, home run, daring play or startling pitching feat?

Ruth Has Been Both
Babe Ruth can testify as to how it feels to have been the goat or a hero. The Bambino was a "bust" in 1922 when his batting mark fell to a miserable .118; but four years later, in St. Louis, the big fellow was acclaimed as he seldom has ever been when he laced out three home runs in one afternoon in the enemy stronghold.

Mark Koenig, in a much shorter career, has also known the two extremes. The sturdy Yankee shortstop, then in his first major league year, contributed the error that started the Cardinals on their winning rally in the final game of the 1926 series. But last year, in the Yankee clean sweep over the Pirates, Mark was the outstanding star, leading the regulars of both clubs at bat and shining afield.

Old Pete Alexander, 41 year old pitcher, probably wouldn't make a Greek statue envious but the veteran was cast in heroic mold in the great Cardinal victory two years ago.

Hoyt Has Been Hero.
Much younger in years but a veteran of five world's series, Waite Hoyt, the Yankee twirling ace, has known the glamour of being proclaimed a world's series hero and he is ready to shoulder the main burden again for the house of Huggins.

While these few erstwhile inmates of the hall of fame will be knocking at the door again others will be striving to climb up on the pedestal. There's many a slip on the way up, as John Miljus found out last year by tossing a wild pitch and losing the final game just when it looked as though he would complete a heroic pitching stand.

ABE MARTIN

Candidate Wes Licklider, th' farmers' friend, went out in th' country t' his cousin Jim's, t'day, t' git photographed, but they had a milkin' machine. Why don't dry officers ever wing a rum king or a beer czar, instead of an occasional obscure retailer?

Of the Cardinal clan there will be the picturesque little Rabbit Maranville, back in the world's series 14 years after he helped the Braves upset the Athletics. It would be a dramatic touch for the Rabbit to come through. If not there's Frankie Frisch, capable of super-stuff around second base, or Jim Bottomley and Chick Hafey, the big guns at bat.

SPORT SLANTS

Urbana.—(AP)—An orange mass of 1,000 Illini men will form the famous Block I at home games in the University of Illinois memorial stadium this fall.

Last fall the cheering group on the fifty yard line totalled only 580 men. Orange capes and megaphones form the equipment, with a good strong voice as a primary requirement.

Decatur.—(AP)—Edward "Bud" McGuire, star of the Springfield high school backfield for two years is among the freshman footballers at James Millikin this season.

McGuire was responsible for most of the scores of the Springfield high school during its 1927 season. He is a successful line plunger and a broken field runner. An unofficial record credits him with averaging one hundred yards each game in 1927.

GOING IS GETTING HARDER FOR HAGEN IN PRO GOLF MEET

Unknown Gave Him Run for His Money in Play Yesterday

BY F. G. VOSBURGH (Associated Press Sports Writer)
Baltimore, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Day by day the going is getting tougher for Walter Hagen in the National Professional golf championship now in its quarter final round.

A virtual unknown, Julian Blanton of Toledo gave him a great run for his money yesterday and today the Haig, champion for the last four years, faced the prospect of playing Leo Diegel, Gene Sarazen and Al Espinosa on successive days. The three, like most of the other pros, are getting a bit tired of seeing Sir Walter nonchalantly romp off with the title year after year and would almost prefer beating him to winning the title if they had their choice.

Having downed Jim Barnes yesterday by 3 and 2 and beaten Bill Mehlhorn the previous day, Gene Sarazen now draws a less widely known antagonist in Fred Dudley of Los Angeles, lone surviving representative of the west coast. It was Dudley who yesterday eliminated Al Watrus, 3 and 2.

Espinosa, the medalist, who has been figured as about the best man in the upper half of the draw and a likely finalist suffered a bad slump yesterday afternoon, winning from Bob McDonald, a fellow Chicago pro, by the narrow margin of 1 up in 37 holes after getting a five hole lead in the morning.

Jack Hutchison who shares with Hagen, Sarazen and Barnes, the distinction of being a former champion, just nosed out Pat Doyle of Linwood, N. J., 1 up.

Horton Smith, Joplin, Mo., and Perry Del Vecchio, together with Dudley are the sole surviving representatives of the younger generation of pros. Smith, who put out Willie MacFarlane, 1 up, meets Del Vecchio, victor yesterday over Glenn Spencer of Baltimore by 1 up in 37 holes.

Marriner Wins With Broken hand at Peoria

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Les Marriner, sturdy Illinois heavyweight, has given one of the best demonstrations of gameness ever seen in the ring.

After being floored for a count of nine three times in three rounds in his bout with George Genas of Philadelphia last night, Marriner discovered his right hand had been broken. Refusing to heed suggestions of his seconds that he quit, he fought on with such determination that he won the judges' decision, knocking his opponent down 11 times.

Marriner will be out of the ring for six weeks or more as the result of the injury, his trainer announced.

The motor traffic in Jamaica has more than doubled in the last four years.

HOOVER IS TOLD WORK IS NEEDED ALONG SEABOARD

Strengthening of G. O. P. Campaign There is Essential

BY JAMES L. WEST
(Associated Press Staff Writer)
Washington, Oct. 4.—(AP)—His attention centered now upon the present exigencies of the campaign, Herbert Hoover is leaving to the future his precise program for the closing days of the presidential contest.

His chief concern for the time being is the eastern sector of the country from which he received varying reports as to the outlook. Some of these are of a very pessimistic nature while others are less gloomy.

Assessing the whole, the Republican presidential candidate is convinced that the real fight is along the eastern Atlantic seaboard, from Jersey's shores to the point where begins the rock-lined coast of Maine, and his efforts are directed toward strengthening the party ramparts there.

Expect Visits to Aid.
Leaders in that section believe that his personal visits to New York City and New England will be of great benefit.

Such party warhorses as Moses of New Hampshire and Reed of Pennsylvania have frankly told the candidate that persistent work must be done in the east if the party is to hold ground which in national elections it usually has been reasonably certain of long before election day.

The situation in the south also is one to which Hoover is directing some of his energies and his personal bid for support in that section will be made Saturday in his visits to Elizabeth and Johnson City, Tenn., in both of which towns he will make addresses.

While the candidate himself is directing much of his energies to the territory lying to north and south of his personal headquarters here, the west is by no means being neglected with the campaign there being pressed vigorously by Senator Curtis, vice presidential candidate, and by Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, who is covering much of the territory traversed by the Democratic presidential candidate.

Week End Trip.
On his trip to Elizabeth, upon which he sets out tomorrow night, Hoover will be accompanied by Mrs. Hoover, their son, Herbert, Jr., and George Akerson, his personal assistant.

There will be a brief rear platform talk at Bristol, Va., the first stopping place. Leaving Bristol at 11 a. m. the special train will proceed to Childers where the party will transfer to automobiles for a trip through the principal streets of Elizabeth.

Early in the afternoon Hoover will proceed to the fair grounds to speak at 3 p. m.

Entraining again at Elizabeth at 5:15, Eastern standard time, the Hoover party will proceed to Johnson City.

After a second address at the soldier's home Hoover will motor into Johnson City to be the guest of the Chamber of Commerce at a dinner. He will depart at 7:15 p. m. Central standard time, arriving in Washington at 8 a. m. Sunday, after an absence of exactly 33 hours.

Disciples to Meet in Oak Park in '29

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 3.—(AP)—The Illinois convention of Disciples of Christ will be held at the Austin Boulevard Christian Church at Oak Park, Ill., in 1929. It was decided at the state convention here late today.

A women's retreat for prayer and meditation was held this morning, with the ritual service led by Mrs. J. G. Waters of Palmyra, Ill.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Close Cooperation Between Companies

Washington, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Correspondence between J. A. Switzer, of Knoxville, Tenn., secretary of the Southern Appalachian Power Conference, and W. J. Baldwin of the Alabama Power Company, Birmingham, Ala., introduced today in the Federal Trade Commission's investigation of power utilities, indicated a close cooperation between the conference and utilities groups in the south.

Writing to Baldwin on August 25, 1927, Switzer said a politician to whom he had shown the printed proceedings of the two previous conference meetings had remarked that "nearly all of your members are representatives of power companies."

"This gentleman was somewhat mistaken," wrote Switzer, "but it is true nevertheless that a large portion of those interested in our organization are power people." Switzer's letter was in connection with arrangements for the 1927 convention, and he suggested that attendance from the power companies should be supplemented as much as possible. He enclosed to Baldwin a copy of the tentative program and proposed "for the power companies to use their influence with the larger power users on their several systems to attend this meeting."

Switzer also informed Baldwin that President Coolidge had been invited by letter to attend the convention, and that the invitation would be supplemented by the mayor and the chamber of commerce of Chattanooga. "I don't suppose there is much chance of our bagging any such big game," he added, "but there is no harm in making the effort."

Two Freight Robbers Taken in Galesburg

Galesburg, Ill., Oct. 3.—(AP)—Frank Rogers, alias Frank Murray, 54 years old and reputed to have a nationwide record as a bank and freight car robber, was arrested by Burlington Railway agents today with his partner, Joe Bush, 43. The pair confessed burglaries of the railway depots at New Boston and Roseville and box car robberies at Rushville.
Dozens of automobile tires, floor lamps, smoked meat, women's silk garments, men's overcoats and raincoats and several rifles stolen at Rushville were recovered. The men said they came here from Virden, Ill., to open a campaign of burglaries, the officers said.
Rogers has served two terms in Kansas for robbery and one at Fort Madison, Iowa, for box car thefts. The prisoners were to be taken to Aledo today to be arraigned on a charge of burglary of the New Boston depot.

Remus' Deportation Dropped by Officials

Washington, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Deportation proceedings against George Remus, the Ohio bootleg chief, have become dormant at the Department of Labor, and it was indicated today that it was unlikely that he would ever be expelled from the United States.
After the various criminal court trials in which Remus became involved were disposed of, including that of killing his wife, the immigration service formally charged him with being an undesirable alien unlawfully in the United States. Remus in defense asserted that he came to the United States with his father when a minor and that his father, a German by nativity, had obtained naturalization and by that act converted his son to American citizenship.

Frank Ranieri, appeared before the grand jurors with state attorneys and police Lieut. Paul Riccio. Three other men are already under indictment for extortion and for kidnapping, the latter offense punishable by death, and the state has announced it would seek the death penalty for Angelo Pettiti, the alleged agent of the kidnapping ring.

CONTRASTS FIRE FIGHTING TODAY AND CENTURY AGO

Great Progress, Made in Last Half Century, is Proven

East Moline, Ill., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Modern methods of fire protection were contrasted with those of "Samuel Peppys" time 300 years ago, and the difference described as due "co-operation before the fire," as against "co-operation after the fire," in an address of John P. Snigg of Springfield, chief counsel for the State Fire Marshal's department, before the Rotary club here today.

"From the time that quaint philosopher, Samuel Peppys looked down from a high place on the Tower of London, and saw the great metropolis in flames," Mr. Snigg said, "until Mrs. O'Leary's cow kicked over the lamp, was 205 years, and 47 more years have elapsed since the great Chicago fire. In that 47 years more real progress by many times has been made in mechanics of fire fighting than in the 205 between the two great fires."

"Peppys records in his diary, date of 1666, 'Now begins the practice of blowing up houses in Tower street, those next the Tower, which at first did frighten more than anything; but it stopped the fire where it was done, it bringing down the houses, to the ground in the same places where they stood and then it was easy to quench what little fire was in it, though it kindled nothing almost.' In his day fighting a fire consisted in retreating before it; tearing down and blowing up houses in the path of the devastating element; now we fight it at its source; not only that but instead of co-operating to tear down and blow up houses, we co-operate and try to so conduct ourselves that the fire shall not occur."

"The perfection of fire fighting machinery and the training of the personnel of the fire fighters is the work of the skilled few; real fire prevention requires sustained interest on the part of all right thinking, law abiding citizens, governmental agencies, civic organizations."

"During fire prevention week, there is an intensive campaign waged for the purpose of interesting all of the citizens in the reduction of fire losses, in the state and nation. The week of October ninth, commemorating the date of the great Chicago fire, is the time chosen for the American mind seems to need something startling, something extraordinary, to focus its attention. The American people are the best little forgetters in the world. We have catastrophe after catastrophe, the people are horrified for the moment, resolutions are adopted, investigations are held, laws are passed by willing legislatures, and then the matter passes out of the public mind. So what we need is peace time preparedness to meet the relentless enemy, fire, and Rotary Clubs and other civic organizations can do much to keep up daily sustained interest in fire prevention."

Americans spent nearly one billion dollars for the building of apartments in 1927, which is more than the total outlay for one family houses. All told the cities spent $3,503,839,405 for building operations.

W. S. WASSON
FRANKLIN GROVE, ILL.

Is your car guaranteed for 30,000 miles?

Of course it isn't. No automobile manufacturer could afford a guarantee as broad as that.

You can expect any car on the market today to run more than 30,000 miles if it is given reasonable care. Yet its manufacturer pledges only that the machine is free from defects in workmanship or material. He agrees to adjust any defects apparent within ninety days of the purchase date—a fair and reasonable guarantee.

Why, then, shouldn't tires be bought and sold on the same basis?

Any defect in workmanship or material will become apparent within ninety days. The careful driver will not be penalized by the reckless car owner who ruins his tires within a short time. For on a straight mileage guarantee the cost of adjustments must be absorbed by everyone—by the careful and reckless driver alike.

Perhaps this view hasn't occurred to you. But make up your mind to this—someone must pay for mileage guarantees. They benefit the careless drivers and plainly this cost will be charged back to you, the tire user. You pay a share no matter how carefully YOU drive.

Goodyear Tires carry the same guarantee as your car—warranted for ninety days against any defects in workmanship or material. They are backed by a responsible Company—the greatest in the rubber industry. They have behind them more experience than any other tire in the world for Goodyear has built and sold more than 115,000,000 tires—millions more than any other maker.

And what of the users of these tires? For eleven consecutive years more people have ridden on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind. Isn't this the best proof you could have of the value of Goodyear Tires and the worth of Goodyear's guarantee?

After all, any one can WRITE a guarantee but only Goodyear can build a Goodyear Tire.

SAYS COOLIDGE WAS OPPOSED TO LOWDEN, DAWES

William Allen White's Book Reveals Alleged Situation

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—Two Illinoisans, Frank O. Lowden and Vice President Dawes, it is related in a book by William Allen White, the Kansas Editor, which is off the press this week, were opposed by President Coolidge as Republican candidates to succeed him.

The President had them in mind, as possible candidates, Mr. White writes, when he kept the country in suspense by his cryptic "I do not choose to run" and subsequent silence, but refused to stop work in his behalf, by those who wished him reelected.

"Hoover was the only candidate who openly opposed the McNary-Haugen bill," Mr. White wrote. "He was the only candidate whose nomination would have been an endorsement of the Coolidge administration. The other candidates were running in opposition to the President's record on this major issue. Hence by his crafty silence his refusal to get out of the situation entirely and thus hold away from Lowden or Dawes, and calling the representatives of eighty-six industries together, he let them talk themselves into a solution of the problems that had cost them millions for many years. Elimination of waste and standardization of products was but the beginning of Hoover's work. As head of the United States government it will be increased many fold."

William Jennings Bryan as a youth in Illinois, and William Hale Thompson of Chicago are two others among the political figures. Mr. White writes of "His book is named 'Masks in a Pageant.' Mr. White has known personally all the presidents of United States from Harrison to Coolidge, and he gives in this book a character study of each, as well as of some of their friends and enemies, and other contemporaries.

HOOVER ALPHABET

MANUFACTURERS:
Hoover Saved Them Millions

The high standard of living in America is the result of the steadily increasing per capita productivity. These standards can be advanced only by the elimination of waste in industry. The less waste, the lower the price of a commodity; the lower the price the more people can afford to buy it. Hence the larger the market the greater the number of workers that can be employed. Working upon these principles, Herbert Hoover, while Secretary of the Department of Commerce, set about to save waste in industry and. It is estimated that he saved $600,000,000 to American manufacturers in a single year. Numerous laws upon standardization of products had failed. "Do not coerce, encourage," said Mr. Hoover, and calling the representatives of eighty-six industries together, he let them talk themselves into a solution of the problems that had cost them millions for many years.

Elimination of waste and standardization of products was but the beginning of Hoover's work. As head of the United States government it will be increased many fold.

Further Evidence of Corruption Uncovered by Atty.

Philadelphia, Oct. 3—(AP)—Payments of $11,000 a week by disorderly houses in one police district have been uncovered by District Attorney Monaghan, who is conducting a grand jury investigation of rum runners and gangsters' activities.

They were alleged to have collected $220 a week from a single disorderly house in a police district in which fifty such establishments were reported by the District Commander to have been operating.

Mr. Monaghan said one police captain had accumulated nearly $250,000 in the last two and a half years.

Great Carving Called a "Colossal Failure"

"The most colossal failure in history..... a mutilated imperfection that cannot be rectified!" That was how Samuel H. Venable, one of the principal owners of Stone Mountain, in Georgia, described the Confederate memorial that is shown in the upper photo as it appears today. Venable defended Gutzon Borglum, lower left, discharged designer, and denounced the memorial association for its "extravagant expenditures." The present sculptor, Augustus Lukeman, lower right, he charged with disfiguring Borglum's carving of General Lee. Then Venable acted to forfeit the association's title to the memorial and to turn the work over to the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

EDITOR'S NOTE: How the little known James K. Polk won the presidency in a duel with Henry Clay is told in this chapter of "The Presidential Parade," reviewing 140 years of presidential campaigning.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Writer
(Copyright, 1928, NEA Service Inc.)
Washington, Oct. 4—The first dark horse galloped into the Democratic national convention of 1844. He was James K. Polk of Tennessee. He was obscure then and he is obscure today.

He never would have been elected president had not the Abolitionist party taken just enough Whig votes from Henry Clay in a close race to beat the Great Compromiser in his nearest approach to the White House.

Clay might have won anyway had not the Whigs been forced to repudiate their president, John Tyler, who "turned Democrat" and robbed them of the fruits of their great belated victory of 1840. Old William Henry Harrison had aged and weakened before the onslaughts of office-seekers anxious to replace Democrats. In his one short month of office he had already defied both Clay and Webster, as they sought jobs for friends.

Harrison went to market in the rain without his coat and caught cold. Delirious, he died screaming excuses to women whose husbands had been fired from federal jobs, refusing patronage and howling at applicants.

Tyler Acts Swiftly
Tyler, some said because of his rage that the vice presidency gave him no patronage, had retired to his Virginia estate. Webster went dashing after him. No previous president had died in office, so the question arose whether Tyler should be acting president or what. Tyler sent Congress a message signed "John Tyler, president," and that settled it. Clay dominated Congress and the Whigs were celebrating their first tenure of power by putting through his new fiscal program, finance still being an important problem. Tyler vetoed the first Clay bill and when another had been framed to suit his wishes, vetoed that. Democratic members hastened to the White House to congratulate him and Tyler opened up some champagne. Everybody drank toasts naming Clay. Clay described the scene in the Senate. Tyler's cabinet, appointed by Harrison, resigned except Secretary of State Daniel Webster, who stayed to conclude a treaty with England.

Then the congressional Whigs formally and publicly repudiated Tyler. Tyler hoped for the 1844 Democratic nomination, foolishly enough. His new friends, nicknamed "the Corporal's Guard," even held a convention and gave him a nomination which he accepted, but he soon withdrew in despair. Even a Democratic senator had publicly called him "the meanest renegade who ever left his party."

Johnson Gets Busy
Most Democrats wanted Van Buren renominated, but not all. South Carolina and Georgia were for Calhoun, who had succeeded Webster as secretary of state. Former Vice President Johnson of Kentucky toured the country assuring the voters that only he could beat Clay. General Lewis Cass and James Buchanan of Pennsylvania were also suggested.

Shrewd politicians ganged Van Buren as they had Clay in the Whig convention of 1840. His great enemy was Calhoun, who sought the presidency on the issue of immediate annexation of Texas with an inevitable war with Mexico. Through intermediaries and alleged trickery, the aged Jackson was persuaded to write a letter urging immediate annexation by peaceful means and when Calhoun made him admit that, his bravery in taking such an unpopular stand cost him, as Jackson mourned later, the nomination of his party.

The plotters were determined to block both Van Buren and Calhoun, but Calhoun thought they were his friends. Unfortunately for both, their chances were impaired because the speculators in land and scrip who stood to clean up with the Texas annexation knew they were too honest to stand for the plundering.

Needing time to encompass Van Buren's downfall, the plotters obtained postponement of the convention from December to May, meanwhile preaching the gospel: "Van Buren can't be elected." They worked the unpledged delegation scheme for the first time, but not very successfully.

Calhoun, as secretary of state, was spreading rumors of British abolition plots in Texas and even sent a message to the astonished Lord Aberdeen, British foreign minister, defending slavery—for home consumption! Eventually Calhoun withdrew, denouncing the undemocratic convention system which wouldn't nominate him, but he had injured Van Buren seriously. All the other candidates were out for prompt annexation, which Calhoun had made a north-south issue. Buchanan had withdrawn just before Calhoun.

Clay and Van Buren had made a gentlemen's agreement to ignore annexation as an issue in the election campaign. Both opposed the Texas treaty, which meant war. But Van Buren's letter was dragged out just before the convention and it killed him in the south, which was rabid for annexation because it would strengthen the slave power.

Sharpen the Knife.

A great majority came instructed to vote for Van Buren, but many were ready to knife him and some southern delegates resigned rather than obey orders.

The knife was promptly produced in the form of the famous two-thirds rule. After a warm debate, southern delegates obtained its adoption with the aid of a few northern delegates anxious to beat Van Buren. The Texas speculators in and around the convention egged them on. The vote was 148 to 119.

It then took 178 votes to nominate. Van Buren got 146 on the first ballot and became the first and almost only candidate ever to get a majority without being nominated.

On the seventh ballot Cass of Michigan had 123 votes to Van Buren's 99. With bitter feeling between factions, Polk's name was dragged out on the eighth and he got 44. Delegates began to arise to demand harmony at all costs and Polk as the best possible compromise. The ninth ballot was a stampede for Polk. It was suspected at the time that Polk's nomination had been the aim of an annexationist plot from the first. He was a friend of Jackson's, a sine qua non for victory in November.

"Harry Clay of the West" was unanimously nominated by the Whigs and the campaign issues became Texas and tariff, the latter Clay's pet-hobby. He was forced on to the timid side of the fence by Polk's espousal of prompt annexation and then the belligerent "54-40 or Fight" slogan over the Oregon boundary dispute with Britain. Then the Great Compromiser compromised once too often. He wrote the famous Alabama Letter saying he would be "glad to see" annexation of Texas and it wrecked him in the free states.

Jackson and Clay were meeting for the last time; again Jackson won.

Van Buren supported Polk, probably out of deference to the dying Jackson's great hatred for Clay. He persuaded Wright to resign from the Senate and run for governor of New York so as to carry the national ticket for Polk. The election hinged on New York. Abolitionist Birney got 62,000 votes, mostly on the strength of the Alabama Letter. His 15,000 in New York included the 5000 Whig votes Clay needed to carry the state and the electoral college. The vote:

	Popular	Electoral
Polk	1,337,000	170
Clay	1,299,000	105

Wealthy Farmer is Slain at Door Step

Williamsport, Ind., Oct. 3—(AP)—Lying face downward in the front of the door of his country home, the bullet-riddled body of Victor Briggs, one of the wealthiest farmers of the county was found this morning by a salesman who called at the house. Briggs apparently had been called to the door from his sitting room, as his newspaper was found opened beside his chair.

Six steel coated bullets were found in his head and chest. Robbery, apparently, was not the motive, as a small valuable diamond ring was still on his hand, and a small sum of money was in his pocketbook. Nothing in the house appeared to have been disturbed.

Mr. Briggs, who was sixty years old, had been living alone. Two years ago he was shot at by an unknown assailant.

No ExcUSE

There isn't a single excuse for doubtful brakes in this city. We have installed a Jumbo Giant Brake Tester on which every car owner can test his brakes free in two minutes. The "Jumbo" has a gauge for each wheel. A record is made of exactly what each brake will do at different driving speeds.

If the test shows that adjusting is needed, that adjusting should be done right on the machine. When it is finished you drive away with perfectly equalized brakes which will answer in an emergency.

The feeling of security you have when your brakes are right will make the Jumbo test a regular habit with you. It is just as important as oiling and greasing and should be done every thousand to fifteen hundred miles.

See FOR YOURSELF

Right before your eyes—on accurate hydraulic gauges—the JUMBO Brake Tester reveals the true condition of the brake on each wheel. Eliminates all chance for human error—no guesswork. Assures positive equalization and perfect balance of brakes—maximum braking efficiency—"guaranteed safety!"

Growing Children

sometimes require a tonic as do their elders*

GIVE your child the right chance to develop, and you will not regret it in later years.

Many children become undernourished due to lack of appetite. Keep the appetite keen. Food nourishes the body and makes it grow.

Also watch Nature's warning for changes in the system. Skin troubles—pimples, boils and that sallow complexion—all foretell a body weakness.

In such cases, S.S.S. is the proper tonic. It improves the appetite; helps Nature build rich, red blood cells—those vitalizing elements in the blood that build and sustain the body.

In building rich, red blood cells, S.S.S. improves the processes by which the body is nourished.

For more than 100 years S.S.S. has been helping children and their elders regain strength and vitality.

Children like S.S.S. It is made from the fresh roots of medicinal herbs and plants, and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Get the larger size. It is more economical.

* The physical welfare of the child is being given more attention by school authorities. Failure to keep up with class work and absence from school is probably due to a nervousness and rundown condition that may be largely attributed to a deficiency in red blood cells.
